College Hour

Student Affairs proudly presents the November 16 College Hour, entitled “Native American Heritage.” Featured presenters will include Jim Hannibal, Automotive Technology instructor, and Billie Lavan, College Cashier, who will display handmade wooden flutes from various American Indian tribes, and handmade Hopi dolls.

College Hour provides the college community with an opportunity to come together to participate in fun activities designed to enhance student life.

For those of you who wish to present at the November 16 College Hour, please complete the form on the reverse side of this announcement. The completed form should be returned to the Student Affairs Office located in room Z-113 at the Student Services One-Stop Center, or left in Sharon Barrett’s mailbox no later than November 10th. Returning the completed form by this date will ensure that your presentation is advertised throughout the campus.

Please help make College Hour successful by encouraging students to participate. Although this is not a mandatory activity, the Academic Senate supports College Hour, and encourages all faculty to release their classes in order for students to participate.
