Section I: Program Overview and Update			X	The department provided a thorough update on its progress. The update described the department’s excellent collaboration/work with the other departments across the college on events and activities to broaden awareness of art, elevate the program’s prominence in the community, and enhance the student experience. The department works with the local community and even on the national level to display/showcase art from Cuyamaca students and faculty. Multiple art faculty members have been recognized at the regional and national levels for their work.

Section II: Assessment & Student Achievement

A. Student and Program Learning Outcomes Assessment		X		A thorough explanation on the SLOs was provided, including the use of common rubrics, but no analysis of the SLOs was given. The department noted it was planning on making changes to its SLOs. The department is also working on aligning its SLOs and PLOs to the College’s new ILO of Professional Responsibility. The program assesses its PLOs through SLO mapping. This section could be strengthened with a summary of how assessment results have been used to inform changes to the program.

B. Student Achievement			X	The department provided a thorough analysis of student equity and shared innovative plans for addressing equity gaps and incorporating culturally responsive strategies into their classes. The department is moving forward with intentionality and advancing these plans even before a full-time faculty member is hired.
C. Distance Education		X		The department provided an analysis of its online and in-person course outcomes, with relatively small differences in success rates between the two modalities. The department also indicated that all online art instructors have participated in training and follow the College’s Guide to Best Practices in Online Teaching and Learning. The department did not specifically discuss the mechanisms in place for ensuring regular contact between instructors and students. Adding this information would further strengthen the program review.
Section III: Previous Goals				Previous goal was deleted. The department recognized that this previous goal was not a broad, multi-year goal, but rather an action step that will help the department achieve its actual goals.
Section IV: New Goals			X	New goals are set to improve the program. Goals are aligned with the college strategic plan. Well informed
