6. Program Update (Required): Please summarize the changes, additions, and achievements that have occurred in your program since the last program review. You can access 2022 program reviews on the program review webpage.

Officially added Pat Thiss as second full time faculty member in HED/NUTR on 1/1/23. As an already tenured professor, Dr. Thiss will split chair duties with Dr. Herrin. Successfully test the addition of HED 251 for our English as a first language students. This course had evolved over time to fit the needs of our "refugee population" and centered around their health with an embedded translator in the course. Dr. Thiss now teaches a version of the section geared toward English speakers. We still offer two sections each semester for our "refugee population."

Q17

Yes

11. Does your department offer classes that are approved distance education courses?

12. If there were differences in success rates for distance education (online) versus in-person sections of program courses in your last comprehensive program review, what has the department done to address these disparities? If online and in-person sections had comparable success rates, please describe what the program did to achieve that.

All courses in the last five years have been offered online.
