Providing detailed information and context can help clarify the need for your request.:

Many instructors in the History, Humanities & Philosophy department have requested new furniture for F-building classrooms. F-building classrooms are about 40 years old and the furniture in them was designed for a one-directional "sage on the stage" manner of instruction. This manner of teaching is not effective for most students but it is especially ineffective for students from historically marginalized groups. One of our goals as a department is to close equity gaps and one way the department is attempting to do so is through updating classrooms to facilitate active and collaborative learning for our gender studies, history, humanities, philosophy, and religious studies classes. There is a critical need for this furniture as the F-building has not been upgraded for 15+ years given that it was slated for demolition/replacement twice. Now that the F-building will not be replaced in the near future, we are requesting updates in the form of new furniture so we can serve our students in proven, pedagogically effective ways with the goal of improving student success and closing equity gaps.

Q11

Program Goals: Please identify the program goal(s), as stated in your current annual or comprehensive program review, that this request would help your program achieve. Provide a brief explanation of how it would do so.

One of the department's goals is to reduce equity gaps through equity-minded teaching practices. Active learning and collaborative learning are important components of equitable teaching that are difficult to accomplish given the old, bulky furniture that students have to use in the F-building.
