HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE

In 2007, "The Cuyamaca Way" became Cuyamaca College's official motto, a tribute to the institution's prevailing sense of community. Thirteen key words that the campus community decided best describe that "Cuyamaca Way" were inscribed in curving concrete bands stretching across the newly paved quad. The words, "beautiful, collaborative, dedicated, innovative, integrity, teamwork, vision, welcoming, student-centered, community, excellence, passionate, and friendly," became etched in stone.

The declaration of Cuyamaca's distinct attributes harkens back to a time some 35 years prior, when District trustees first selected the name "Cuyamaca College" in envisioning an institution that exemplifies the "community" in the words "community college."

THE HISTORY OF THE CAMPUS

The Cuyamaca College campus is located in the East San Diego County community of Rancho San Diego, nestled in a suburb just outside the city of El Cajon on a verdant 165-acre site that was at one time a part of the Old Monte Vista Ranch. Along with its sister campus, Grossmont College, it is part of the Grossmont-Cuyamaca Community College District.

The name for the college reflects the region's history and heritage. A very old word linked to the land's Native American past, "Cuyamaca" has been interpreted in various ways, including "above rain," "beyond rain" and "place where the rain comes from heavens."

The campus site was acquired by the Board of Trustees in September 1972 and the college officially opened in fall 1978, with 1,947 students and nine associate-degree programs. Its first president was Dr. Wallace F. Cohen. Today, Cuyamaca provides 140 degrees and certificates, including those in innovative green-energy programs, to its 9,000 students. In addition, another 4,000 are enrolled in the District's non-credit Continuing Education and Workforce Training program based at Cuyamaca College.

KEY EVENTS

Thirty-eight students made up Cuyamaca College's first graduating class in May 1979. The early '80s saw the construction of facilities housing two highly regarded programs – Automotive Technology and Ornamental Horticulture – and the naming of Dr. Samuel Ciccatti as the college's second president.

The following years marked the expansion in earnest of Rancho San Diego and by fall 1988, Cuyamaca's enrollment had reached 3,600 students. The decade of the '80s came to a close with the opening of the Learning Resource Center, a 30,000-square-foot, glass-covered building with a distinctive architecture that has established it as an often-photographed campus icon.

The '90s were highlighted by the opening of the privately-funded Heritage of the Americas Museum, as well as the dedication of a new 20.3-acre physical education facility with a fitness center, gym, tennis and volleyball courts, soccer and ball fields, and an Olympic track. Dr. Sherrill Amador began her tenure as college president in 1994 and a year later, Rancho San Diego Parkway opened as the college's new main entrance, providing better access to the campus. The decade of the '90s ended with the opening of the Water Conservation Garden – a must-visit for all home gardening and landscaping enthusiasts – operated through a Joint Powers Agreement between the college and area water-district agencies.

With the opening of a one-stop Student Services Center, the 21st century got off to a busy start for the college, which also celebrated the unveiling of the Child Development Center. The whimsical facility serves as both a childcare facility for the campus and community, and a learning lab for students in Cuyamaca's Child Development Studies program.

Dr. Geraldine M. Perri took over the reins as college president in 2002, the same year that East County residents approved Prop. R, a $207 million construction bond measure to finance upgrades and new building construction at the District's two colleges.

During a period of rapid enrollment growth, Prop. R transformed the campus into a high-tech learning magnet, bringing older facilities like the automotive technology center into the digital age and adding several state-of-the-art buildings: the Science and Technology Center (now the Science and Mathematics Building), the Student Center, the Business and Technology buildings, and the jewel of the campus, a $45 million Communication Arts Center. There, a well-appointed performing arts theater built to professional acoustical standards has become a major community asset as a high-demand site for community performances, assemblies, business forums and even, worship services.

Prop. R's major construction at Cuyamaca College drew to a close in 2011 with the expansion of the LRC. Other campus highlights during those years included music instructor Pat Setzer's selection as one of four community college instructors statewide to win the 2010 Hayward Award for Excellence in Education, and in 2011, the appointment of Dr. Mark J. Zacovic to the post of college president.

In November 2012, East County voters once again showed their support for the college district with the passage of Prop. V, a $398 million bond measure that paves the way for Cuyamaca and Grossmont colleges to address continuing facility, infrastructure and technology needs.

Also in 2012, Cuyamaca was selected as one of three community colleges in the state to be given the inaugural Energy and Sustainability Award from the California Community College Board of Governors. The college was recognized for its sustainable landscaping initiatives, including a conference that has attracted hundreds of industry professionals annually since 2008.

As a recognized leader in green-career training, the college's Continuing Education and Workforce Training Division annually manages an average $2-3 million in workforce development grant funds. In 2009, it received a $1 million grant to train workers for jobs in the green building industry.

Cuyamaca College continues its development as a dynamic learning mecca, a unique campus with a strong allegiance to sustainability reflective of its natural beauty. Yesterday, today and tomorrow, the college remains unwavering in its mission to meet the comprehensive educational and workforce training needs of residents in East County and beyond.

COLLEGE VISION, MISSION, AND VALUES

Vision: Learning for the Future

Mission: The mission of Cuyamaca College is to serve a diverse community of students who seek to benefit from the college's wide range of educational programs and services.

In order to fulfill its commitment to student learning, the college provides:

- Instructional programs that meet student needs for transfer education, career technical education, general education and basic skills courses
- Community education programs and services
- Programs that promote economic, civic and cultural development

To facilitate this mission, Cuyamaca College provides a comprehensive range of support services including: outreach and access initiatives, academic and learning resources, student development programs, and multicultural and co-curricular activities.

In support of its mission, Cuyamaca College structures its planning processes and engages the college community by pursuing the following areas of focus, which form the foundation of the 2010-2016 Strategic Plan:

- Student Access
- Learning and Student Success
- Value and Support of Employees
- Economic and Community Development
- Fiscal and Physical Resources

Values:

- Equitable Access: We value equitable access that facilitates participation in academic programs and support services needed to meet students' educational goals.
- Individual Student Success: We offer courses and programs leading to degrees, certificates, transfer, employment, personal enhancement, and lifelong learning.
- Academic Excellence: We employ a variety of methodologies and technologies responsive to students' needs and conducive to students' varied educational and experiential backgrounds and learning styles.
- Innovation and Creativity: We value innovation and creativity in order to encourage our students to question and to expand their thinking.
- Diversity and Social Harmony: We value and embrace diversity and create opportunities for our college community to work together to meet the challenges of a complex global society.
- Environmental Stewardship and Sustainability: We take pride in our campus and its resources, and we strive to be on the forefront of sustainability and green technology.
- Strong Community Relations: We recognize our role in the cultural, educational, technological, and economic/workforce development of the communities we serve.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

In order to maximize the opportunity for the development of individuals' personal, social and intellectual qualities, the college provides:

An instructional program:

- Transfer courses equivalent to the lower division curriculum of universities and colleges for students who plan to continue their education at a baccalaureate institution.
- Career and technical education courses to provide technical skills and knowledge for beginning employment, retraining and advancement, respond to local business and industry workforce development and workforce training directions.
- General education courses to broaden knowledge, skills, attitudes and values, to develop analytical ability and critical thinking, and to foster interest in lifelong learning in the educational, scientific and cultural fields essential for effective participation in a diverse and complex society.
- Developmental courses to assist inadequately prepared students to succeed in college course work.

A student services program:

- Academic, vocational and personal support services to provide students with sufficient opportunity to achieve educational success.
- Co-curricular activities to provide opportunities for personal development and social responsibility.

Learning resources support services:

- Library collection: A well-rounded collection of print and electronic materials selected to support instructional programs across the curriculum.
- Information competency: Instruction designed to teach students how to locate, evaluate and utilize information resources. Preparing students for lifelong learning is the ultimate goal.
- Research guidance: One-on-one instruction to assist students with their course-related and individual research needs.

A continuing education program:

- Noncredit courses are state-funded and provide students with lifelong learning, college transfer and career preparation opportunities at low or no cost. For many, noncredit programs provide an educational gateway into the college system.
- Community education courses offer a wide variety of affordable not-for-credit classes, workshops, seminars and excursions for personal and professional enrichment. Community education programs are self-supporting and are open to all members of the community willing to pay a minimal fee.

A contract education program:

- Customized training delivered under contract that meets the just-in-time workforce development needs of business, government, and industry.

A workforce development program:

- Education and training that contributes to continuous workforce improvement of regional business and industry and is in many cases grant funded.

EDUCATIONAL PHILOSOPHY

The founders of the Grossmont-Cuyamaca Community College District believed that a community college should provide experiences which would greatly broaden the students' educational opportunities and strengthen our society's democratic institutions. The representatives of the community directed the college to provide an education through which students may create rewarding lives, productive for themselves and for society, based on an understanding of the relationship between the past and the challenge of the present and the future.

Cuyamaca College accepts and is committed to these philosophical premises:

- The democratic way of life allows each individual personal freedom and initiative consistent with responsibilities to one another.
- The college recognizes the worth of the individual and the fact that individual needs, interests and capacities vary greatly.
- The maximum development of the personal, social and intellectual qualities of each individual must be encouraged.
- The maximum development and fulfillment of the individual and the development of the community are increasingly interdependent.
- All segments of the college community are encouraged to contribute and participate in the operation of the college.

An educational environment dedicated to these philosophic premises will produce individuals prepared for life and citizenship in a complex, viable society.
