

Miriam Simpson for Academic Senate Vice President

Miriam Simpson has a proven track record of fostering collaboration and achieving positive outcomes for both students and faculty. As a frequent senator and experienced chair and program lead in Science and Engineering, Miriam is deeply committed to the student-centered mission of the college promoting equity and inclusion. With extensive expertise in technology, data, and a growing interest in enrollment management, she is well-suited to lead efforts to strategically leverage technology to improve the student and faculty experience. Miriam is also acutely aware of the challenges associated with providing meaningful and equitable instruction both in-person and online, and she is committed to representing faculty interests while balancing the realities of available resources. With a respectful and balanced approach, Miriam seeks to bridge the gap between ambitious goals and pragmatic solutions that benefit both faculty and students. Overall, Miriam's expertise, commitment to equity, and collaborative spirit make her an outstanding candidate to represent faculty as Vice President of the Academic Senate.
