GROSSMONT-CUYAMACA COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

I. Introduction & Foundations

Introduction

Participatory governance is essential to advancing the Grossmont-Cuyamaca Community College District's (District/GCCCD) mission and strategic priorities. At GCCCD, participatory governance is more than a process—it reflects our commitment to collaboration, accountability, transparency, trust, and shared decision-making. By ensuring that every voice is heard and valued, we foster an environment where faculty, staff, administrators, and students work together to guide decisions that shape the District's future and support student success.

The Governance and Operational Handbook (handbook) serves as a comprehensive guide to participatory governance, providing clear direction on:

1. Governance structure – outlining councils, groups, and stakeholders
2. Decision-making processes – detailing how recommendations are developed, reviewed, and implemented
3. Roles and responsibilities – defining expectations for governance participants
4. Governance vs. operations – establishing the overarching framework that differentiates governance matters from operational work
5. Continuous improvement – ensuring governance structures evolve to meet District needs

Each stakeholder plays a vital role in governance. Through active participation in governance councils, stakeholders help shape policies and strengthen institutional effectiveness.

Designed as a practical resource, this handbook equips stakeholders with the knowledge and tools to navigate governance processes confidently, contribute to institutional progress, and uphold District's values of integrity and mutual respect.

Vision, Mission, and Values

Vision

Transforming lives through high-quality educational programs and services that meet the needs of the diverse communities we serve.

Mission

The Grossmont-Cuyamaca Community College District provides high-quality, equitable learning opportunities to eastern San Diego County and beyond. We prepare students to meet changing community and workforce needs while advancing social justice and economic mobility.

Values

- Diversity - Value and invite multiple perspectives in discussions and decision-making; create space for historically excluded and marginalized voices to be amplified.
- Equity – We ensure students who have historically been marginalized and excluded have the opportunity to succeed in higher education by calling attention to patterns of inequity in student outcomes and actively working to eliminate equity gaps in student access and success. Commit to ensuring employees who have historically been marginalized and excluded have the opportunity to succeed in their profession.
- Student-centeredness – We ensure the student experience is at the forefront of our decision-making in programs, services, processes, and policies, creating opportunities and clear pathways for students to reach their educational goals.
- Creativity and Innovation – We value the capacity for ingenuity and originality on our campuses and within our communities.
- Pursuit of Excellence and Continuous Improvement – We strive to continuously reflect, learn, and improve to ensure excellence in our programs, services, and operations.
- Integrity – We commit to acting and speaking truthfully and responsibly and holding ourselves and others accountable to this standard.
- Mutual Respect – We strive to build a community of inclusiveness, compassion, empathy, and learning marked by mutual respect and consideration of our differences.

II. Participatory Governance Framework

Philosophy

Participatory governance is how we work together to ensure that inclusive and collaborative involvement in decision-making leads to the best outcomes for students, employees, and the community. This shared responsibility fosters student success and institutional excellence.

Participatory governance is guided by:

- Unity and Alignment – Cultivating a positive governance culture with clearly defined roles promoting efficient collaboration and mission-driven policies and practices ensuring everyone is working towards a common goal
- Equity and Inclusion – Recognizing that every voice matters and that diverse perspectives strengthen decision-making
- Transparency and Trust – Ensuring clear, accessible communication at every stage of the governance process
- Communication and Follow-Through – Keeping constituency groups informed, engaged, and updated on governance decisions and their progress
- Mutual Accountability – Encouraging all participants to actively engage, report back to their constituency groups, and uphold the integrity of the governance process

While consensus is ideal, we acknowledge that diverse viewpoints may lead to differences of opinion. Participatory governance values dialogue and collaboration, but it also requires individual and collective accountability. In cases where consensus cannot be reached, council Chairs will forward a recap of the issue and corresponding discussion to the District Executive Council. In all cases, the Chancellor has final decision-making authority, and the Governing Board holds final determination authority.

Governance vs. Operations

Governance and operations are distinct yet complementary functions within the District.

Governance Councils

- Develop recommendations on policy development Board Policies -(BPs), strategic initiatives, and institutional priorities
- Ensure alignment with the District’s mission, accreditation standards, and regulatory requirements
- Consist of stakeholder representatives who provide constituency feedback and guidance

Operational Groups

- Develop Administrative Procedures – (APs) to implement Board Policies

- Develop and evaluate districtwide processes and operational guidelines
- Co of individuals with specific expertise and operational knowledge to inform operational decisions

Other functions that are not typically addressed by an operational group are responsibilities contained in someone’s job description and routine operational decisions.

Stakeholder Representation & Responsibilities

Grossmont College, Cuyamaca College, and the District each maintain participatory governance structures tailored to meet the unique needs of their campuses and sites. While governance structures may vary across the colleges and District, the Governance and Operational Handbook defines the roles and responsibilities of stakeholders within districtwide participatory governance, ensuring alignment and consistency across all entities.

Stakeholder roles are established based on function and expertise, Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations and District Board Policies (see Governance Policies & Regulations). These roles facilitate collaboration while recognizing the distinct contributions of:

- Faculty
- Classified professionals
- Confidential administrators
- Managers and Supervisors
- Labor groups
- Students

Active engagement is essential to participatory governance. Each stakeholder group is responsible for appointing representatives to participatory governance councils, thus ensuring their constituency’s voices are heard and reflected in the recommendation processes.

All stakeholders play a critical role in governance with a shared responsibility to:

- Attend and actively participate in all governance meetings
- Solicit and represent input from constituents on governance matters
- Engage in discussions by sharing perspectives and providing informed feedback
- Communicate outcomes by reporting meeting decisions and updates to constituent groups through meetings, agendas, minutes, and emails
- Complete assigned action items and follow through on governance responsibilities
- Support policy implementation by assisting with the practical application of adopted policies

III. Stakeholders

Governing Board

The Governing Board (Board) holds final authority for District policies and decisions. In alignment with Education Codes 70902 and 71090 the Board retains ultimate responsibility for governance of decision making for the District. In accordance with the Education Code, the locally elected Governing Board is responsible for the following:

- Represents the public interest
- Sets policy direction
- Establishes the climate in which educational goals are accomplished
- Defines legal, ethical, and prudent standards for college and District operations
- Hires and evaluates the Chancellor
- Assures fiscal health and stability
- Delegates power and authority to the Chancellor to effectively lead the District
- Monitors institutional performance
- Advocates and protects the District

In carrying out these functions, the Board ensures and supports active participation by stakeholders through the participatory governance processes. As elected representatives of the community, the Board is the ultimate authority in the District, governed by state laws and regulations.

Chancellor

The Chancellor is the chief academic and administrative officer of the District, charged with providing strategic direction and leadership for the District. The Chancellor facilitates the participatory governance process by promoting a decision-making environment of inclusiveness, civility, honesty, fairness, communication, and collaboration.

Pursuant to District board policy, the Chancellor is the official designee of the Board, and is directly responsible to the Board. The Chancellor is given the authority and responsibility to administer the District and to assign designees to carry out operations.

The Chancellor has the right to accept, reject, or modify any recommendation from a participatory governance body. In the spirit of professionalism and collegiality, if the Chancellor does not accept a formal recommendation from a governance council, they/them will inform the chair of the originating council.

Confidential Administrators

Confidential Administrators play a central role in the executive leadership of the District. They contribute to administrative decisions to carry out the institutional mission and create an institutional culture reflecting District values of excellence, trust, stewardship, and service.

Confidential Administrators perform at the highest professional level and are responsible for an array of governance and operational duties including planning, organizing, and directing College and District programs; planning for and managing resources; hiring, supervising, and providing work direction to employees; and problem-solving and decision-making to advance the District's strategic goals and objectives.

Confidential Administrators are involved in districtwide decisions made at the District level and articulate recommendations to the Chancellor in matters assigned related to their area of expertise.

Managers and Supervisors

Managers and supervisors play dual roles in participatory governance. In their functional roles, supervisory, classified administrators, and educational administrators participate in operational matters based on their job responsibilities, specialized knowledge, and designated authority. Managers and supervisors also serve as stakeholders as members of the Administrators Association contributing as functional leaders.

Academic Senates [Faculty]

The Academic Senate serves as the primary representative body for faculty in participatory governance, academic, and professional matters, as defined in Title 5, Section 53203 of the California Code of Regulations and board policy BP 2510 Participation in Local Decision-Making. The Grossmont College Academic Senate and the Cuyamaca College Academic Senate are separate bodies, each representing the faculty of the respective colleges.

The academic and professional matters on which the Board will rely primarily on the Academic Senates are as follows:

- Curriculum, including establishing prerequisites and placing courses within disciplines
- Degree and certificate requirements
- Grading policies
- Standards or policies regarding student preparation and success
- Faculty roles and involvement in accreditation processes, including self-studies and annual reports
- Policies for faculty professional development activities

The academic and professional matters on which the Board will seek mutual agreement with the academic/faculty senates are as follows:

- Educational program development and educational program discontinuance
- District and college governance structures as related to faculty roles
- Processes for program review
- Processes for institutional planning and budget development
- Other academic and professional matters as mutually agreed by the Board of Trustees and the senate(s)

The Academic Senates regularly submit items to the Chancellor for Board approval. These items include biannual Curriculum Committee approvals, sabbatical leave recommendations, emeritus applications, and other academic and professional matters as listed above, upon which the Board either relies primarily upon or seeks mutual agreement with the Senates.

Classified Senate [Classified and Confidential Professionals]

The Classified Senate represents non-management classified staff in participatory governance on non-bargaining-related matters. In alignment with Board Policy 2510: Participation in Local Decision-Making, the role of classified staff members at the District level is to participate in the development of recommendations to the Chancellor on issues that have or will have a significant effect on staff (California Code of Regulations and BP 2510 Participation in Local Decision-Making).

Students

Students play a vital role in participatory governance by offering unique perspectives that shape institutional decisions. Their contributions are essential to fostering an inclusive, student-centered environment that promotes equitable access, academic success, and personal growth.

The Associated Students of Grossmont College (ASGC) and the Associated Student Government of Cuyamaca College (ASGCC) serve as the official voice of the student body. In alignment with the California Code of Regulations, Title 5, Section 51023.7, their recommendations are given reasonable consideration in governance processes.

Students have the right and responsibility to participate in decisions that significantly affect their educational experience, including:

- Grading policies
- Codes of student conduct
- Academic disciplinary policies
- Curriculum development
- Courses or programs to initiate or discontinued
- Processes for institutional planning and budget development
- Standards and policies regarding student preparation and success
- Student services planning and development
- Student fees within the authority of the District to adopt
- Any other District and college policy, procedure, or related matter that the District governing board determines will have a significant effect on students

IV. Governance & Operational Structures

Structure

The participatory governance structure outlines how recommendations are developed, evaluated, and put into action. At the District, decision processes are categorized into governance and operational functions, based on the authority and responsibilities of each entity in shaping districtwide policies and procedures.

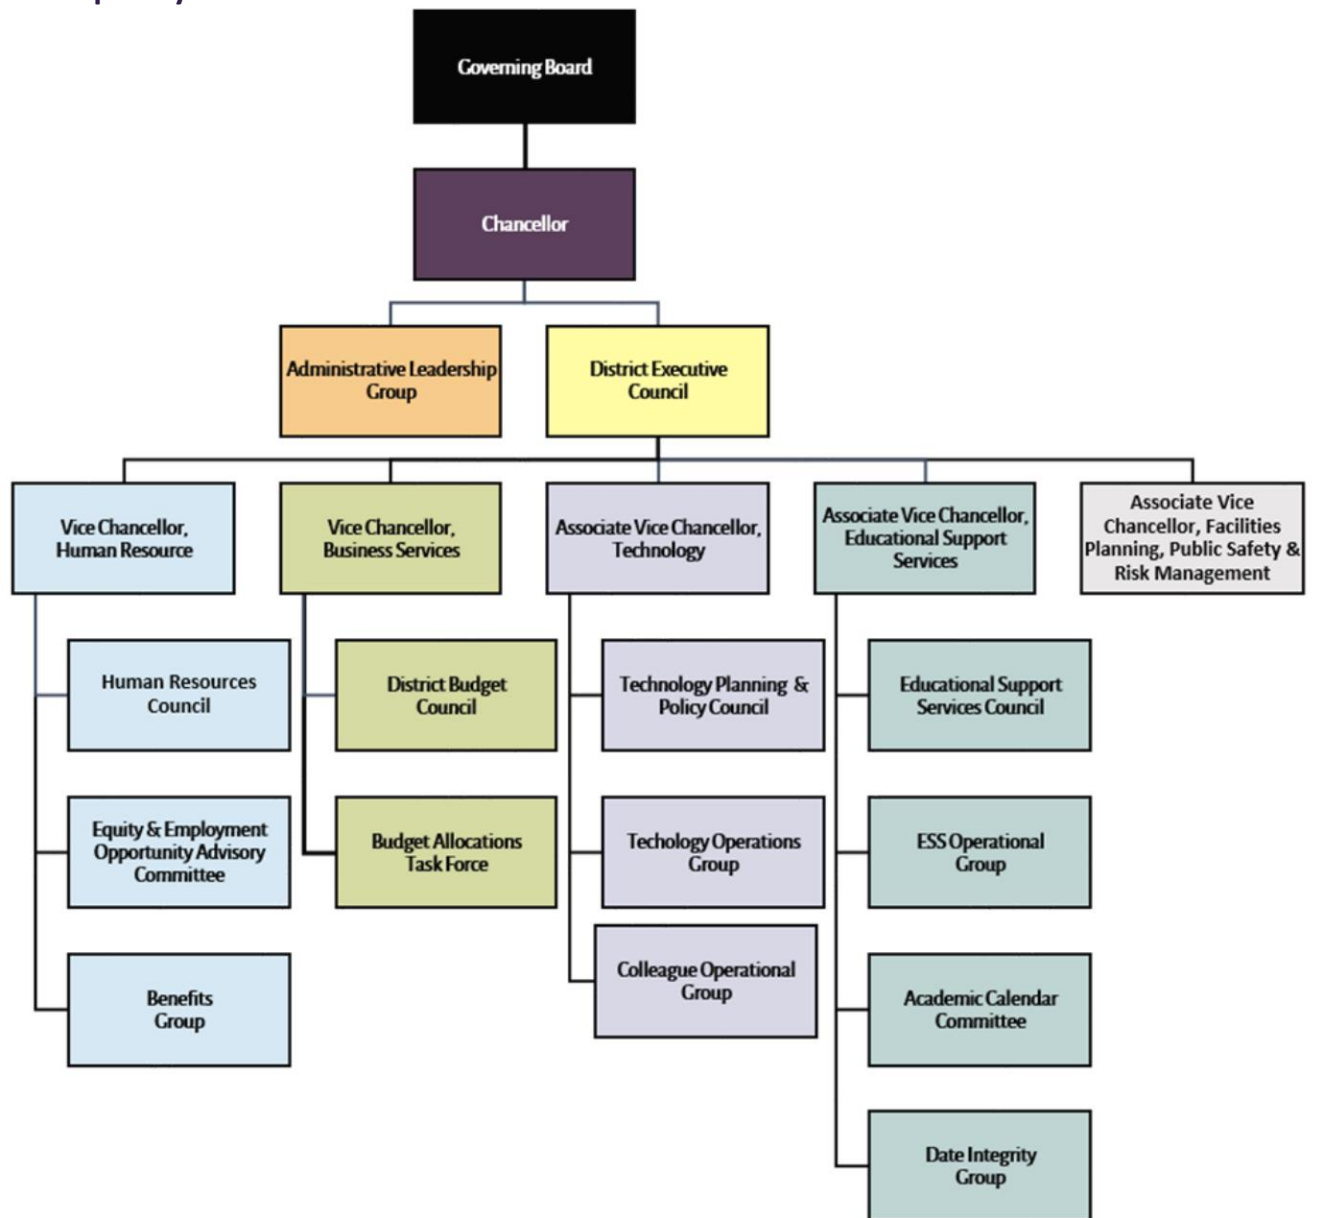

Governance councils and operational groups play a key role in fostering districtwide collaboration and support of the mission, vision and values of the District. They serve as formal communication pathways, ensuring stakeholders are informed, involved, and represented in discussions that shape the student experience and the District's future.

Governance Councils

Governance councils are the primary bodies for policy recommendations and strategic planning within the District. Comprised of administrators, faculty, classified professionals, labor organizations and student representatives, each governance council operates within a defined scope of authority, focusing on Board Policies, compliance with legal and regulatory requirements, student success, and alignment with the District's goals and strategies.

Receives Recommendations from:

- Technology Operations Group (TOG)
- College Technology Group (COG)

Meeting Schedule

Third Wednesday of the month, from 10:30 to noon.

Operational Groups

Operational groups focus on policy implementation, regulatory changes, ensuring districtwide consistency in administrative processes. Comprised of individuals with specialized knowledge in their respective areas, these groups develop, evaluate, and refine Administrative Procedures (APs) that translate Board Policies into actionable steps.

Chaired by an administrator, operational groups play a crucial role in standardizing practices, improving student success, improving efficiency, and addressing procedural challenges across the District and colleges. While their primary function is policy implementation, they also provide recommendations to governance councils when procedural adjustments require policy-level consideration.

In addition to the Operational Groups list, the following are operational entities.

Steering Committees

An operational entity overseeing and directing large-scale initiatives; and may have oversight for the supervision of other committees or subcommittees.

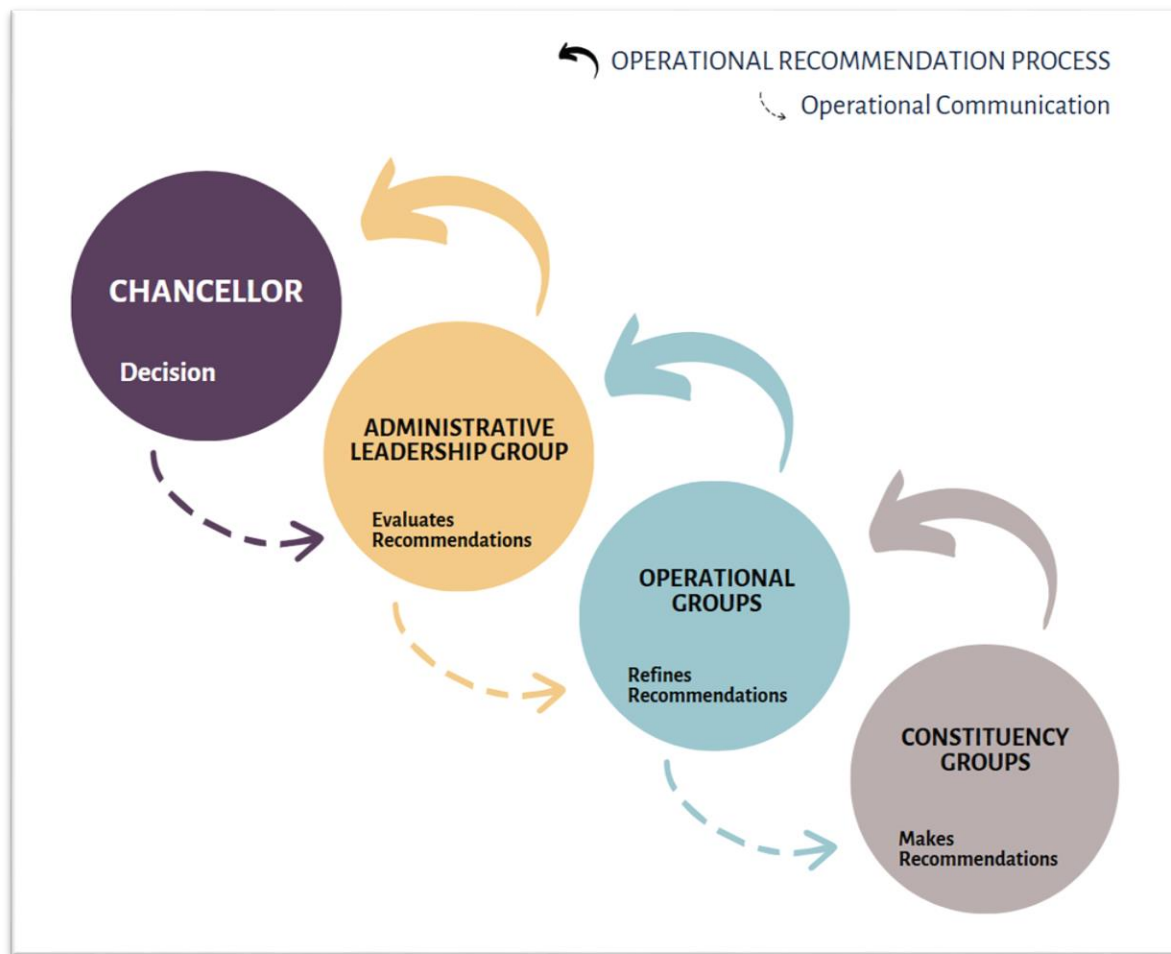

Task Force

A temporary operational entity composed of individuals relevant to its purpose. Task forces are created to address a specific issue and remain active until their objective is achieved, at which point they disband.

Equity and Equal Employment Opportunity Advisory Committee

Charge:

The Grossmont-Cuyamaca Community College District (GCCCD) Equity and Equal Employment Opportunity Advisory Committee (EEEEOAC) assists in developing, revising, and implementing district EEO programs and plans. The committee identifies programming and recommends activities to promote diversity, equity, inclusion, accessibility, and anti-racism. The EEEEEOAC works in support of the District's and the Colleges' visions, missions, and values, as well as the Board of Trustees' commitment to equitable employment practices to promote community relations in the area of diversity, and to assess the impact of institutional policies and practices on hiring and retention, with a focus on equity and inclusion.

As part of the participatory governance structure, EEEEEOAC advises, provides recommendations to, and receives recommendations from the Human Resource Council (HRC).

Functions:

- Assist in developing, revising, and implementing district EEO programs and plans, with an emphasis in fostering diversity and inclusion in hiring practices
 - Guidance on the EEO Plan: Partners and provides expert advice on the formulation and revision of the district's EEO Plan to ensure it meets the objectives set forth by the California Community College Chancellor's Office and complies with state and federal EEO laws
 - Review EEO Plan Effectiveness: Regularly assess the effectiveness of the EEO Plan in achieving its goals and metrics, offering recommendations for improvements.
- Review Board Policies and Administrative Procedures related to Equity, EEO, and recruitment and selection and make recommendations for revisions

- Assist in developing, revising, and implementing district academic hiring processes and practices and classified, where applicable, related to the cycle of hiring (recruitment, interviews, onboarding, retention, promotion, etc.) with the goal of increasing employee diversity to better reflect the District's diverse student population

The advisory committee shall receive training on the following, but not limited to:

- the requirements of state and federal nondiscrimination laws, including anti-racism;
- identification and elimination of bias in hiring;
- the educational benefits of workforce diversity; and
- the role of the advisory committee in drafting and implementing a district EEO plan

- Approach interactions with goodwill, ensuring that all communications and behaviors demonstrate respect for the diverse backgrounds, experiences, and opinions of others and recognize that inclusivity enhances decision-making
- Encourage open participation from all members ensuring that:
 - a) No individual dominates the discussion,
 - b) Responses are thoughtful, not pre-formulated, and
 - c) There are no interruptions and sidebar conversations
- Acknowledge and appreciate both individual contributions and the collective achievements of the council, regardless of the level of controversy or the outcome of discussions
- Work toward consensus, in the best interest of the District

Resource Personnel

Resource personnel have specialized knowledge related to a council's charge and functions. They may be designated members of the council's composition or invited by the council chair to provide expertise on specific agenda items.

The council chair will communicate the purpose of the request and provide relevant background information in advance to ensure resource personnel are prepared to engage effectively. Resource personnel are expected to participate in discussions and offer informed insights.

Communication & Accountability

Effective communication is the cornerstone of participatory governance. It requires engagement from all stakeholders, beyond information sharing. Communication is a mutual responsibility and continuous dialogue.

Clear, consistent communication results in:

- Strengthening the alignment between institutional policies and daily operations
- Ensuring decisions are representative, actionable, and sustainable
- Reinforcing transparency and trust throughout the decision-making process

Closing the Loop

“Closing the loop” is a two-way communication process that ensures all stakeholders receive timely updates as issues continue through the governance process.

- Providing regular updates on recommendations and decisions
- Ensuring that outcomes are communicated back to the originating bodies
- Facilitating dialogue between councils, operational groups, and stakeholders

By closing the loop, the District reinforces a culture of collaboration, transparency, trust, and accountability.

Governance Process & Communication

Decision-Making Process

1. Issue Identification & Recommendation Submission:
 - Constituency groups identify issues and submit agenda items to the Chair of the appropriate council via email
 - Closing the Loop: Council representatives provide regular updates on the status of submissions through meeting agendas, minutes, and direct communication
2. Governance Review & Recommendation Development
 - Governance Councils review and refine recommendations through collaborative discussion and consensus-building
 - Closing the Loop: Representatives communicate outcomes, including approvals, revisions, or rationale for non-approval, back to originating groups
3. Executive Review
 - The District Executive Council (DEC) evaluates recommendations for compliance, strategic alignment, and districtwide impact
 - Closing the Loop: DEC representatives update originating councils on any modifications or the rationale behind decisions
4. Chancellor's Determination
 - The Chancellor makes a final decision on recommendations and forwards items requiring board approval
 - Closing the Loop: The Chancellor's decisions are communicated through DEC representatives, who inform the originating groups

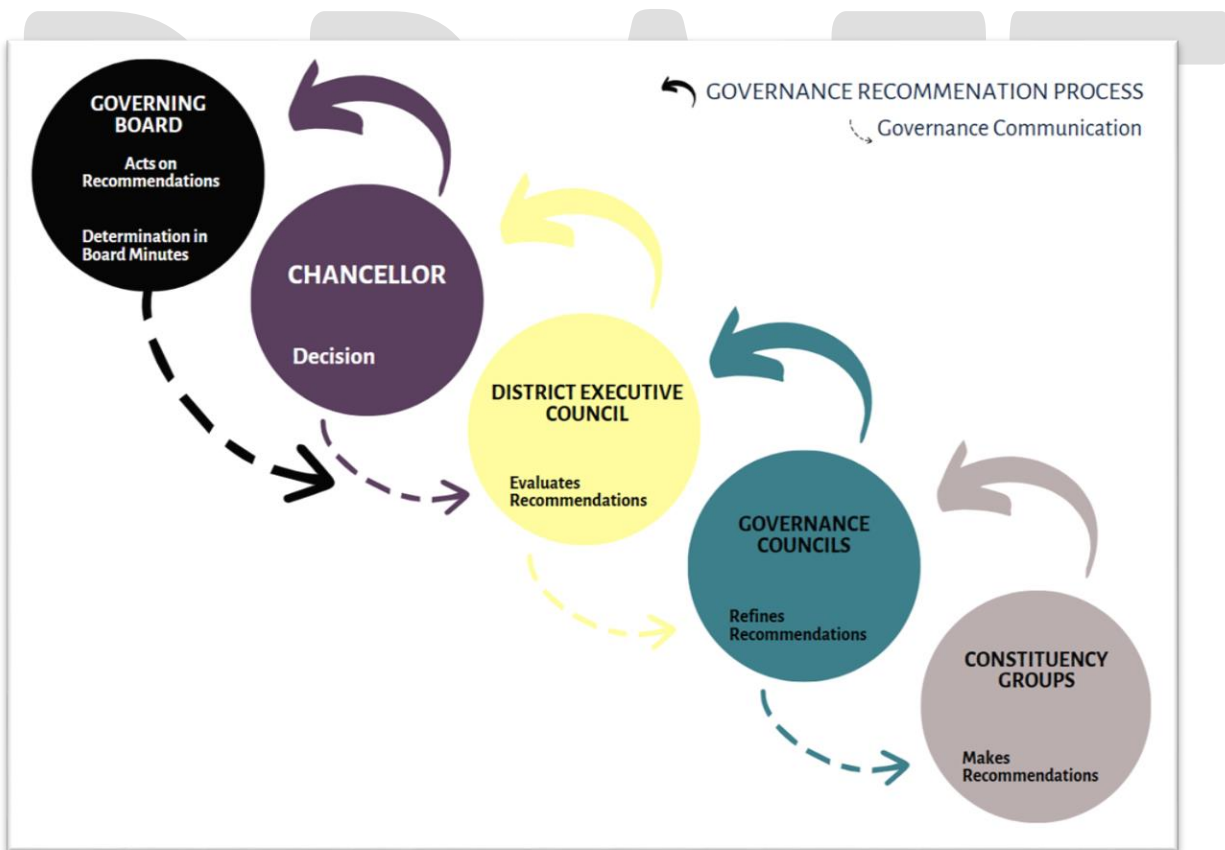

5. Governing Board Action

- The Governing Board reviews and acts on recommendations requiring board approval
- Closing the Loop: Board actions are documented in meeting minutes and posted on the District website, Chairs will also update councils

6. Implementation, Assessment & Continuous Improvement

- Operational Groups develop administrative procedures, processes, and guidelines to implement approved Board Policies and statues as well as evaluate effectiveness
- Closing the Loop: Representatives share updates on the implementation process and provide assessment findings for continuous improvement

Governance Recommendation and Communication Process

Governance Meetings & Documentation

Quorum & Consensus

Quorum

- A quorum is a simple majority (50% + 1) of the council composition
- A quorum is required before a governance council can take action on recommendations

Consensus

Governance councils strive for consensus-based decisions, ensuring all voices are heard. Consensus is achieved through open dialogue, active listening, addressing concerns, and collaboratively refining recommendations. While compromise may be necessary, the goal is to develop a recommendation that best serves the District.

Consenting to a recommendation does not necessarily mean it is every member's first choice but reflects the council's collective willingness to uphold the final recommendation.

- If there are no objections, consensus is reached, and the recommendation moves to the District Executive Council (DEC)
- Consensus does not require unanimous support. In cases where consensus cannot be reached, council Chairs will forward a recap of the issue and corresponding discussion to DEC
- In all cases, the Chancellor has final decision-making authority, and the Governing Board holds final determination authority

Procedures

Governance Recommendations

Governance councils engage in collaborative decision-making processes, guided by the District's strategic priorities, compliance obligations, and board policies. Recommendations are submitted to the District Executive Council (DEC), which reviews, refines, and ensures alignment with institutional goals. DEC then forwards final recommendations to the Chancellor for evaluation/approval. The Chancellor determines which proposals require Board approval and which should be delegated to operational leadership for execution.

If a recommendation from the council requires Board action, the Chancellor reviews it and, if approved, forwards it to the Board for determination.

If the Chancellor does not support the recommendation, they may return it to the originating council with feedback for revision.

Operational Recommendations

Operational groups identify issues, develop strategies to implement Board Policies, and formulate recommendations for their respective Chairs. Chairs then present consensus-based recommendations to the Administrative Leadership Group (ALG), which evaluates them for strategic alignment and operational feasibility.

The Chancellor evaluates the recommendations and may:

- Approve the recommendation and direct the operational group to implement it
- Modify the recommendation and proceed with the revised version
- Return the recommendation to the originating group for further review and discussion

Meeting Documentation & Transparency

To ensure transparency and effective communication, the following documentation timeline is followed to the extent possible:

- Two (2) weeks before meetings – Request for agenda items is solicited
- One (1) week before meetings – Agendas are distributed
- Within one (1) week of the meeting – Meeting notes are published
- Council representatives are responsible for communicating decisions to their respective constituency groups

Annual Review & Continuous Improvement

The District's participatory governance process is dynamic and responsive. Stakeholders play a vital role in its refinement by providing input, sharing observations, and recommending improvements that align with the District's mission and priorities.

The District is committed to continually improving its governance structure and functions through review and evaluation. This includes an annual review, ensuring the Governance and Operational Handbook remains current.

Annual Review: Each council reviews its charge, composition, and meeting schedule. Proposed changes are presented to the District Executive Council (DEC) for evaluation and recommendation to the Chancellor. Approved changes are reflected in the online handbook with an updated approval date. In addition, the Research, Planning and Institutional Effective (RPIE) department distributes a comprehensive survey to council members to assess the quality and effectiveness of the participatory governance process. The District Executive Council (DEC) reviews the feedback and recommends revisions to the Chancellor. Approved changes are reflected in the online handbook with an updated approval date.
