What is a Memory Cue Sheet?

A memory cue sheet is a test accommodation used to support students who have documented challenges with memory. It is a tool used to trigger information that a student has studied but may have difficulty recalling due to cognitive processing deficits associated with memory and recall. The memory cue sheet allows the student to demonstrate knowledge of course material by helping prompt the student’s memory, not by providing the answer.

A memory cue sheet gives students an equal opportunity to demonstrate their knowledge of course material on a test without taxing already compromised memory function. This accommodation is not intended to reduce academic requirements or alter the standards by which academic performance is assessed.

A proper memory cue sheet will not be useful to the student unless the student knows and understands how to use the information to which it refers. It does not serve as a substitute for studying because a memory cue sheet will not help if a student has not studied the material.

How is accommodation for a memory cue sheet determined and approved?

- The student must meet with an SRC disability specialist or counselor and present documentation, from a qualified professional, which supports the need for this accommodation.
- The disability specialist or counselor will review the documentation and discuss the request for a memory cue sheet in depth with the student.
- The student is responsible for:
  - Learning the course material
  - Discerning which material may require cues or triggers
  - Developing the cues that will appear on the sheet
  - Securing the professor’s approval and initials prior to test appointment
What does a memory cue sheet look like?

Styles of cue sheets may vary. Generally they can be hand written or typed on a large index card and up to one side of a letter-size page (8 1/2 x 11”). Typically, the memory cue sheet should be written or typed in a standard font size (i.e. 12 point font) and double spaced. At the discretion of the professor, unless being tested on it, a cue sheet may or may not include:

- Acronyms
- Short phrases
- Pictures
- Schematic diagrams
- Formulas
- Names
- Definitions
- Tables
- Sample questions
- Key terms/words charts

What a cue sheet is not...

A cue sheet is not meant to record all the facts, concepts or processes being tested. This means that a cue sheet should NOT:

- Exceed one page (single-sided)
- Include specific examples of how formulas are used
- Include “answer sheets” or complete terms and definitions of content being tested
- Include full course notes or all information from the course which is being evaluated
- Include open textbooks

PROCEDURES

1. Obtain approval for use of cue sheet from an SRC Specialist/Counselor
2. Set-up test appointments as per SRCTA Guidelines, at least 3 business days before a test.
3. Prepare a cue sheet for each test.
4. The student provides the cue sheet to the instructor approval in a timely manner
5. Prior to the test/exam, the instructor reviews the student’s cue sheet and chooses one of the following options:
   - Approve the cue sheet "as is"
   - Remove (if handwritten: delete, scratch out, or black out with a marker; if in a Word document: delete) information that the instructor has deemed inappropriate are deemed to be essential criteria or learning objectives for the course.
6. When the cue sheet is approved and signed by the instructor, the instructor or the student submits it directly to SRCTA prior to the date of the test.
   - Only the mutually agreed-upon cue sheet will be allowed with the test at SRCTA. Students may not have access to other course materials, unless previously approved by the instructor.
7. If the student arrives at SRCTA with a cue sheet NOT approved by the instructor, the cue sheet is NOT ALLOWED. SRCTA staff will NOT contact the instructor on behalf of the student to request approval for a cue sheet. This is the responsibility of the student.
8. The completed test and cue sheet will be returned to the instructor.
